

Hello CommonLit team!

Thank you for reviewing my application, let me tell you a little more about myself. As a designer with an unconventional background (I sold insurance for a number of years!), I've got an unconventional perspective on design, and a passion that motivates me like no other. Throughout my design career I've honed my skills through hands-on experience, working on a variety of projects for big name brands with teams of developers, strategists, and executives. Diversity brings the ideas, accessibility makes them usable, and collaboration brings them to life.

I was recently part of a non-performance based company restructuring at my previous design agency frog, and so have been looking for opportunities to apply my skills and unique perspective with a new team that shares my passion for innovative design. I am confident that my creativity, attention to detail, and ability to work under pressure will make me a valuable asset to your team. I am excited about the opportunity to contribute to your agency and am eager to discuss how my skills and experience can support your organization's goals.

Thanks again, and hope to talk soon!

Regards,

Aaron Amador
